Media Release – 20 May 2026

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Garling&Co recognised in the 2026 Client Choice Awards, reflecting client trust and specialist care.

Sydney-based personal injury law firm Garling&Co has been recognised in the Client Choice Awards, being named Best Personal Injury Law Firm under $30 million and announced as a Finalist for Best Law & Related Services Firm under $30 million.

Run by Beaton Research and Consulting and supported by Westpac as Principal Sponsor, the Client Choice Awards are distinguished by their reliance on direct client feedback, with no judging panels, self-nominations or reputation-based scoring. Firms are assessed solely on how clients rate their experience, including service quality, communication and trust.

Principal Lawyer Matthew Garling said the firm places particular value on the awards because they reflect the real-life experiences of our clients and are underpinned by independent research.

‘These awards matter to us because they are grounded in genuine client feedback and independently researched by Beaton Research and Consulting,’ Mr Garling said. ‘They show how clients actually experience the service they receive, which is far more meaningful than industry perception.’

Garling&Co acknowledged the role of Beaton Research and Consulting in maintaining the integrity of the awards, thanked Westpac for its support as Principal Sponsor, and congratulated fellow finalists and winners recognised across the legal and professional services categories.

Garling&Co acts exclusively for people with serious injuries, providing legal assistance in matters arising from workplace accidents, motor vehicle incidents, medical negligence, public liability claims and related matters. Every lawyer at the firm is an Accredited Specialist in Personal Injury Law, ensuring each matter is handled by practitioners recognised by their peers for advanced expertise.

In recent years, the firm has embedded trauma-informed communication across all areas of its business, recognising the emotional and psychological impact of serious injury and shaping how clients are supported, how matters are managed and how communication is handled throughout the legal process.

‘Our role is not just to achieve legal outcomes,’ Mr Garling said. ‘It’s to help people make informed decisions, regain confidence and move forward. Client feedback tells us whether we are genuinely delivering on that responsibility.’

Helping you get back to what matters most.

About Garling & Co

Garling&Co is a Sydney-based personal injury law firm acting exclusively for people with serious injuries. The firm represents clients whose lives have been impacted by workplace injuries, medical negligence, motor vehicle accidents, public liability incidents and total and permanent disability claims.

Every lawyer at Garling&Co is an Accredited Specialist in Personal Injury Law, a recognition awarded through peer assessment to practitioners with advanced expertise in this complex area. Each case is handled by a specialist from start to finish, ensuring careful preparation, continuity and accountability throughout the legal process.

Garling&Co adopts a trauma-informed, client-focused approach, recognising the physical, emotional and psychological impact of serious injury. The firm prioritises clear advice, dignity and respectful communication, supporting clients throughout their recovery journey.
